2015 AASSA GIN Conference

L6 & U6

American School of Rio de Janeiro will hold an annual Global Issues Network (GIN) Conference for students in Grades 7 – 12 from October 22-24th. GIN is focused on working to address global issues in your direct community. It can focus on whatever issue you believe is important and needs to be worked on in your community, and should do more than just a small awareness campaign within your class. It should be something that will really make a change, even if just inside your school, and always remember, it starts with you! So if you want to collaborate locally, regionally, or globally in order to create a project based on sustainable solutions for global issues, this is the right place. If you want to embrace this project and attend this amazing event, please join our Club!

For this programming course pupils will be given an introduction to programming in an application development environment for mobile platforms such as Androids. The course will be divided into two parts. In the first part of the course, we will use the MIT App Inventor platform based on Blockly programming language to create simple applications. The pupils will start with programming using conditional and repeat loops as well as application design (user interface, software usability and human-computer interactions). They will also be introduced to the concepts of object-oriented programming (classes and objects). In the second part, we will use the knowledge learned by the pupils to develop an application project together. Divided into 3-4 teams pupils will learn to create applications in a team scenario. The course material will be in English.

This course is given as a paid after school activity (PASA) and as such a contractual relationship is entered into between parents and MadCode. The costs of the course is 6 monthly instalments of R$350 per pupil and there will be a one-off enrolment fee of R$200 per pupil totalling R$2,300 per child per term. This will be for 18 classes.

If you are interested please contact Fabiana below. We will then contact you again before term starts to provide you with the necessary paperwork. If more than 15 pupils apply then we can create more groups.

MadCode – Programming for mobile devices II

(for intermediate and advanced programmers)

F1 to U6

The programming course for mobile devices II is designed for pupils who already have programming experience. We will develop a game engine (i.e. a software abstraction layer the purpose of which is to facilitate the development of games and simulations for Android) making use of the Java programming language.

Early in the course, pupils will have a brief introduction to Java language, reviewing some concepts previously learned under the area of object-oriented programming. For this, we will simulate some of physical phenomena, later introducing these mechanics into the game engine. We will also look at the use of APIs.

The course material will be in English.
